GENERAL INFORMATION

1. This site is a good place for recreation after a visit to Isla Lobos. It is a small rocky beach with white sand and calm waters. Migratory and coastal birds may be observed in the nearby lagoon. The beach is suitable for snorkeling.
2. The vegetation up on the hillside is unique due to the high number of matazarno trees. At the beach it is possible to see two species of crabs, the ghost crab, which feeds on organic material found in the sand; and the hermit crab, which eats carrion and other living organisms found at dusk and dur
